

Reward

The image shows a voucher for the EPR Innovation Prize. At the top left is the EPR logo with the tagline 'Celebrating mutual learning and continuous improvement'. The text 'EPR Innovation Prize' is followed by the same tagline. Below this, there is a 'To:' field with a question mark and a box containing '€ 1,000'. At the bottom, it says 'Amount: One thousand euros' and is signed 'Jean-Paul Eevers, EPR President'. A small note at the bottom states 'This amount covers costs for participation in EPR activities.'

- ❖ Voucher of 1.000 Euro for travel and participation to EPR professional development activities.
- ❖ Invitation to present the winning practice at the 2017 EPR Annual Conference on 08 June 2017, Mulhouse, France (hotel for one night and travel covered by EPR for one professional)

Past Innovation Prize Winners

- ❖ 2016 Edition: Serious Games, Theotokos Foundation, Greece
- ❖ 2015 Edition: Dundalk Football Supporters Club, RehabCare, Ireland
- ❖ 2014 Edition: The online intervention the Growth Factory, Pluryn, The Netherlands

For further information on the Prize, please contact Cinzia De Letis at cinzia.de.letis@epr.eu or at +32 2 736 54 44 or visit www.epr.eu

Building capacity for excellence in service provision for people with disabilities

Innovation Prize 2017

*Open from 21 September 2016
to 03 April 2017*

The EPR Innovation Prize was created as a way to reward professionals committed to mutual learning and continuous improvement.

The Innovation Prize is granted every year to the good practice selected for its innovative aspect and its added-value to the rehabilitation sector.

Why an Innovation Prize?

- Enhance the awareness on best practice within an organization.
- Raise the profile of EPR members.
- Promote knowledge management and support the mutual learning process.

Who can participate?

The Innovation Prize contest is open to all professionals working in an EPR member organisation.

How to participate?

- Identify the practices from your organisation that you feel to be particularly innovative and useful for the service users.

The good practice can be of any type (a service, a programme, a methodology, a tool, product, etc..) and related to all areas of service provided by EPR members.

- Download the standard template published on the EPR Innovation Prize section on EPR website (www.epr.eu)
- Send the template by email to Cinzia De Letis at cinzia.de.letis@epr.eu.

Submit your best-practice between 21 September 2016
and 03 April 2017

Selection Procedure

The EPR Innovation Prize will be granted to the best practice selected for its innovative aspect and its added-value to the rehabilitation sector upon the vote and decision of the EPR Centre Coordinators, based on pre-defined criteria:

- Needs driven
- Systematic Approach
- Stakeholders' involvement
- Direct Impact
- Strategic/wider impact
- Practicality
- Inventiveness/Creativity

More information on the selection procedure and the criteria is available in the EPR Innovation Prize Guideline, accessible on EPR website www.epr.eu / webpage EPR Innovation Prize.